OUR MENU

Hyde & Co is here to experiment. Each year, we will bring you a new menu of custom creations following a new concept.

PARANORMAL SCIENCES is our 2023 endeavour; a logbook of strange trials into abstract technology, and the mysteries of those engaged.

We have developed a series of design and art images to match our menu across the venue - look out for hidden secrets and cipher clues, should you wish to follow the modern history.

CRYPTOZOLOGY

02/18

Collective knowledge on cryptid sightings. Insulindian Phasmid activity has led to a need for greater understanding on all manner of cryptids, and their place within relevant biomes. Research teams lost to the howling, but we remain optimistic to soon have a fully categorised bestiary.

THE HOWL OF THE HURON:

A seminal work of cryptid science, published in 1968 by Barker Books and widely accredited as the most accurate selection of findings on paranormal biology ever printed in the modern era. Secretly, the published version was heavily edited due to the increasingly erratic writing style of the original essays, in which the [missing] author claimed to be haunted by a singularly malign case study.

The interpretation of the Rorschach test is not only based on the contents of the response, i.e. what the individual sees in the inkblot (the content). In fact, the contents of the response are only a comparatively small portion of a broader cluster of variables that are used to interpret the Rorschach data: for instance, time taken to provide information on a card can be significant. Any comments the subject may make in addition to providing a direct response is also a large factor in data collection.

THE WILLOWS AND THE WENDIGO

A research journal detailing the hauntings of REDACTED. Published in 1905, this book was written collectively, while the author group was based in 'Autumn House'; a far-isolated asylum for those under paranormal duress. The collated notes were recovered in the nearby woodlands, after the majority of REDACTED. REDACTED REDACTED tied the building to disappear into the woodland itself. Surviving inmates report the wolves of REDACTED.

UNDER A NEW SUN

An acclaimed cinematic masterwork, recorded sometime in the 1950's. 'The Abstract Bomb' involved the expansion of abstraction particles into matter-defining usage. Following the development of expansion technology into such new realms, this revolutionary piece of cinematography recorded one such detonation in as fine detail as the time allowed. The film content, although disturbing, led to Particles, more commonly known as 'Abstract Particles', first came into public scientific knowledge soon after the 1905 incident. The ever expanding wave of reality altering phenomena was exacerbated by the singular abstract bomb detonation in the 1950's, leading to a world state forced to live alongside the endless paranormal. Certain leylines of abstraction could be harvested into power sources, however these energy hotspots were not tapped without considerable risk.
